

ALEXANDRIA, VA.

TUESDAY EVENING, OCT'R. 3, 1882.

THE RICHMOND Whig, while, of course, lacking his ingenuity, has nearly as hard a time in qualifying and "explaining" away its wild assertions as the late Horace Greeley experienced in his memorable canvass for the Presidency. It says, plainly, one day that which taxes it to the utmost to explain away or deny the next. The last ridiculous chimera entertained by it-that Jesus Christ was a liberal readjuster-we suppose, was so revolting to reverend people, in the meshes of the Mahone net though they be, that the GAZETTE has all sorts of impotent epithets hurled at it for quoting the plain language it used in making the thoughtless remark. The following is the Whig's "recantation," "explanation" or "denial," as the reader may choose to con-

"We know (and we choose to say) that Christ was neither a Bourbon nor a Pharisee; and, as a life-long and reverent student of his teachings, we claim that (in the best sensenot in the Bourbon sense) He was a Liberal Readjuster! That is, He taught what we seek to put in force."

Now, if language means anything, the GAZETTE understood the Whig to say just what it did say-"that He (Christ) was a liberal readjuster;" that "He taught what we (the readjusters) seek to put in force." And yet we are charged with "deliberate malice aforethought, instigated thereto by the devil," for taking its words literally. We have not been a life-long and reverend student of the scriptures, but for a number of years have made them a special study, and while acknowledging an inability to see the precise import of every passage, we do know their contents, adopt them and reverently bow to the voice of inspiration. But to undertake to prove that the principles taught by the Saviour are at variance with those of parties who seek to evade the full payment of financial obligations would be a work of supererrogation if not an insult to every intelligent Bible student in the State. Without transcribing every word Christ uttered bearing on this subject, let it be remembered that the circumstances of His advent to this mundane sphere were intimately connected with a tribute-rendering mission, and that, too, to a foreign power, with no legal claim whatever upon His nation, and | ginia. Will white Virginia republicans conthroughout His life He never uttered a word | firm the sale? calculated to impair the payment of debtswhether regarded by his interrogators as just or unjust. One thing, however, regarding the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth has ever been a serious problem to us-how the most questionable parties who ever trod the earth could always so readily see in the meek and lowly Saviour a man of like passions as themselves. Colonel Ingersoll sees in Him, he says, the skeptic of His day; the

CAPT. JOHN WISE, in his speech at Richmond last Saturday night, laid great stress upon the iniquity of the democrats in failing to remove the capitation tax long ago. And yet there is hardly a newspaper printed in Pennsylvania in which the voters of that State are not now urged to pay their polltax by Saturday next in order that they may be enabled to vote. Mr. Wise's party doesn't think the capitation tax such a heinous crime in Pennsylvania as it is in Virginia, though in the former State it goes into the general fund, while here every cent of it is devoted to the support of the public schools. That the republicans of Pennsylvania don't think the tax an iniquitous one is made plain by their maintenance of it, for though they have long possessed the power to repeal that tax they have failed to exercise it.

assassin Guiteau claimed to be His inspired disciple, and now (tell it not in Gath) He is coolly appropriated for a niche in the buzzard roost of Virginia repudiators.

As GENERAL MAHONE has said he wants all race distinctions abolished, and as his past actions show that he allows but few things to stand between him and the accomplishment of his ends, it behooves every white man in the State, no matter what his nativity or politics may be, to qualify himself to vote, or to make his inability to do so known to his local committee in order that they may help him, and be thus enabled to go to the polls next month and cast a hallot against the further sway of the political king who has set himself up in Virginia, and whose authority is only sustained by his cohorts of ignorant, prejudiced, and easily deceived negroes.

ONE of the most sensible men who thought it worth while to try to influnce the famous tariff commission during its late junketing trip was a Mr. Coleman, of Missouri, who said:

"I only come before you for the good of the people. I am one of the people. I am speaking on behalf of over twelve million farmers, because they are the men who have to bear the burdens. They are the sufferers; they are plucked like geese, and the soooner this plucking business is stopped the sooner our manufacturers can compete with the rest of the world. But it cannot be done so long as the present prices have to be paid injury, however. As he got up and got his ular habits. He never tasted medicine in for rent, clothing and subsistence."

THE PUBLIC debt was reduced $15,000,000 during last month. The creditors didn't want their money, and the interest it was must be paid, and it was raised by making the people of the country pay double for the cloth. It will keep clean for months under Cure brought me out in perfect health.

THE PROSPECTUS of a book of wild Western exploits, soon to be published, is being sent around the country. One of the pictures on the prospectus sheet represents an attack on a soldier who has "C. S. A." in raised letters on his cartridge box. The cut represents the soldier as being thrown into great consternation. Having let go his hold on his gun, he has his head thrown back in despair, making no effort whatever to protect himself from his adversary-a man whom it appears he was stationed to guard. The publishers of this book evidently intended it for circulation in that part of the North where the battle of Bull Run is still regarded as a federal victory, and where orators on troop-raising missions during the war were wont to represent Southern soldiers as"stam pedeable" as a battalion of "corn-stalk" militia or a bevy of old women with brooms.

THE ELECTION takes place on the 7th of next month. In order to vote on that day the voter must be registered and must have paid his capitation tax for last year. It requires very little trouble and no expense to comply with the first condition, and if unable to comply with the latter, information of that fact conveyed to the local committees will committees should not wait for information in either respect, but should make it their business to see that every white man who is opposed to Mahoneism shall be enabled to vote at the coming election.

Mr. Folger has accepted the republican nomination for Governor of New York, and says there was nothing unfair in the way by which that nomination was obtained for another. him. And this, too, though three members of the State Committee, by which the convention was organized, state, over their own signatures, that the men who acted as their proxies did so upon forged telegrams. Mr. Hepburn, who was nominated at the same time for Congressman at large, with a better appreciation of the character of the convention, declines the nomination.

GENERAL MAHONE'S home organ, which of late has been adopting scriptural "types" in defence of its notions, in its endeavors to invent imprecatory terms strong enough to apply to those who dissent from the ideas it advocates, sillily compares the GAZETTE to Ananias and Sapphira. Now if any real types of Virginia readjusters are to be found within the lids of the Bible we have them surely in this ancient pair. They promised to pay a certain amount and then tried to cancel the obligation by paying a part only.

EVEN REPUBLICAN newspapers in the North protest against the attempt made by the Hubbell committee, in the republican campaign book they have just issued, to revive sectional and create race animosities. Nothing in the bloody shirt line has ever exceeded what is attempted in the book referred to. And yet it is to the Hubbell, Arthur and stalwart wing of the republican party that General Mahone bas sold Vi.

They then demanded that he advise his race to preserve the color line and vote solidly for Gen. Mahone, with conduct no little to the solidification of the white vote of the State, no matter how that vote has prisoner and in a few moments he was been divided previously.

Massey's defeat would be Mahone's victory. And yet there are men who while professing superlative democracy, are assisting Mahone's vain attempt to defeat Massey. The only hope the Mahoneites now have of electing Wise is derived from pro-fessed democrats, whose democracy, how-half of whom were mounted. We hear it have of electing Wise is derived from proever, is of that remarkable sort that prefers rumored that just before he was hung he the success of Mahoneism.

NEWS OF THE DAY

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

The White House is undergoing repairs. Quantities of dynamite have been found in in railway trucks at Kief.

The debt statement issued yesterday shows the decrease of the public debt during the month of September to be $14,805,948.83. Kossuth recently celebrated the eighty

POLITICAL.

Politics in Fairfax.

Both political parties are actively at work in Fairfax county, and a full vote is expected on election day, though the demoerats will take measures to prevent a repetition of the illegal importation of negro voters that was practiced in that county last year. Farr will undoubtedly lose the county, as he has lost caste with numbers of his former supporters, and his friends admit that he would cut as sorry a there next month have never been better in figure as a member of Congress as he does recent years. at the head of the educational affairs of the Bossism is so distasteful to the large number of republicans of Fairfax, that as this is an an off year and as no national questions are involved, nearly all of them, except those who hold offices, will vote for Barbour and Massey, and they are convinced that they will do right, since Mr. Blaine has expressed his views on the subject. Mr. W. C. Smoot, postmaster at Annan-dale, a most accommodating and competent officer, was "bounced" yesterday. He had had charge of the office since 1875 and had increased its business five-fold. His successor is is a Miss O'Conner. The reasons for his removal were entirely political. He secure the required help. But the local has known Farr for a long time and has persistently and determinedly refused to support him-knowing his incompetency to till any office. Hearing that charges would be brought against him, Mr. Smoot yesterday went to the Postoffice Department at Washington to learn their nature and refute them, but though he found General Mahone in the office busily inspecting papers, &c., concerning Virginia postal affairs, he was told there were no charges against him-simply that his place had been given to

> Ex-Attorney General Lear, who presided over the the Pennsylvania republican convention which put Gen. Beaves in nomination for Governor, has written a letter giving his reasons for refusing to support the nominees of that convention. He says the campaign is being conducted without the slightest regard to the pledges contained in the platform adopted, and that a "party without principles has no claim upon the suffrages of intelligent men."

The election for State officers and members of the Legislature in Georgia will take place to-morrow. The candidates for Governor are Alexander H. Stephens, demoeratic nominee, and Gen. Lucius J. Gartrell, independent, who has received the indorsement of the republicans and green-

The Lynching of Jim Rhodes.

Telegraphic dispatches in yesterday's GA-ZETTE announced the lynching of Jim Rhodes, the Massie murderer, at Charlottesville. An extra from the Jeffersonian office gives the following additional partic-

Retween 12 and 1 o'clock a crowd, variously estimated at from 45 to 50, called Mr. Wright, the jailer, out of his house and demanded of him the keys. which he most positively refused to give. They then should accomyany them to the jail, which he refused to do, saying, "You can riddle me with balls first." They then overpowered the guards, unlocked the jail took out the hanging a lifeless corpse. A few moments after the prisoner was taken out, Capt. Woods was aroused and immediately repaired to the spot. Upon his arrival there, in the name of the Commonwealth, he demanded that they should desist. But the lynchers had formed a line across the road, and with guns and revolvers pointed at the bystanders refused to allow any one to pass, was asked if he was guilty of the murder. He would not say whether he was guilty or JUDGE ROBERT OULD, of Richmond, says not, but remarked that his mother and Lee were innocent. As soon as he could the Commonwealth's Attorney summoned the Town Sergeant, who immediately cut down Farish's farm, about half-way between Sinclair's blacksmith shop and the Free Bridge.

Folger's Acceptance. Secretary Folger, in his letter accepting the republican nomination for Governor of New York, says the methods of the convention were in accordance with precedent and free from violence and clamor. When a decisive vote was reached there was no hesi-Prominent persons asked him to decline the nomination, but after anxiously considering the matter, and weighing the reasons which they presented, he concluded that it was his duty to accept. He says: "As I sought not the nomination, as I was not glad when it came to me, as I could always have seen and could now see it go to another without one twinge of regret, I have no personal reason why I should not refuse it with alacrity. But the matter is not solely or chiefly personal. It has a wider and vastly more important scope. In my judgment, for any one placed as I am at this time, to decline the nomination would produce the utter collapse of the republican party.'

Judge Folger then goes on to show that at this late day it would be impossible to call a new State convention, and he says somewhat mournfully that be the result what it may, he will not take the responsibility of breaking up the republican party. If it is to be defeated at the coming election. he will go down with the party, serene in the consciousness that no act of his "has wrought the rueful ruin."

THE cable announces the death of Gerald Fitzgibbon, the last survisor of the splendid batch of barristers who conducted the detence of O'Conner in the state trials. He it was to whom the then Attorney General, Smith sent a challenge to a duel in court. He was over eighty at his death, and of singhis life. He would eat no bread that was not baked in his own oven, and always carried his leaves with him on circuit.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] WASHINGTON, D. C., October 3, 1882 .-Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, has not yet left the city, though it was expected he would have done so yesterday. With another well-informed politician of his State he went over the estimates of every district and county in that State last night, and after a most liberal allowance for the republicans, he and his friend were both satisfied that the indications of democratic success

That Virginia is not excluded from the improvement that has taken place generally throughout the country during recent years, is apparent in various ways; among them by the rapid growth of the new towns of Roanoke and West Point, and by the increase in the receipts of her railroads. For the third week of September the earnings of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad were $39,000 in excess of those of the corresponding period of last year.

A North Carolina politician who has just arrived here from his State says that the so-called "liberal" movement there is rapidly turning out to be, next to Mahoneism, the greatest political fizzle of the age; that Leach, who essayed the Mahone role, has been repudiated by his own party; that the republicans say the movement has done them grievous injury, and will be as disastrous to them as the Greeley movement was to the democrats, and that the democrats are confident of carrying the State by a greatly increased majority. Judge Garrison arrived here this morning from Spotsylvania C. H., Va., where there was a large political gathering yesterday. Several persons who were present report that the feeling amongst the democrats was that of confidence. The party is united and harmonious in favor of the ticket-Garrison and Massey. Judge Garrison had a lively debate with Col. Mayo, his opponent, after which Mr. John W. Woltz, the republican candidate for Congress, took the latter, the Mahonite, in hand and left but little of him. Sergeant Mason having been denied a discharge on a writ of habeas corpus in New York yesterday, to-day Secretary Lincoln wrote to the President recommending his pardon, and it is understood the President will give this letter his immediate attention, and that he will probably grant the request, not because the Sergeant's conviction was not in accordance with the laws of the army, but for the remarkable reason that he and the Secretary think his punishment has been sufficient for his offense, and because they think the prevailing sentiment of the

The veterinary surgeons appointed by the Government to examine and report upon certain reported cases of splenetic or Texas fever among cattle in West Virginia and certain other parts of the country have made their report, which is to the effect that the disease referred to is generated in Southern cattle and that when it attacks cattle in this man at large, has written declining the part of the country it can always be traced nomination and recommending the calling to cattle that have been brought from Texto cattle that have been brought from Texas or other portions of the far South. They recommend that no cattle from the section referred to be brought north of a certain degree of latitude, and say that as the disease is caught from the ground over which the diseased cattle pass the only safe guard against it is to drive no cattle on the roads over which Southern cattle have been driven. A. M. Howard was to-day commissioned not been confirmed. as Postmaster at Powhatan C. H., Powhatan

A Northern democratic politician who has been spending the summer in Virginia and is now stopping here on his way home, when asked this morning what was his idea about the result of the political contest in progress in the Old Dominion, replied that he thought the democrats would win, though it would be by dead weight, as G. Blaine, who is at York Beach, was rethere was no semblance of organization among them, and that their leaders did not know as much about the condition of their party as he, a stranger, did. He said the democrats among the Mahoneites had come back to their old party, and that the republicans were now as anxious to defeat the Boss, as he had heard they were for him to succeed last year, and, that he believed that Mahone's sole strength now consisted of the officeholders, supported by nearly all the negroes in the State. He then gave a striking account of the advantages of organization, and said that in his State the unit of organization was the road district, and that county elections there had been carried by such simple means as inducing men to postpone comtemplated visits until after the

A gentleman who heard Mr. Massey at Lexington yesterday says it was as effective a speech as he ever listened to, and that Massey will stump that part of the State.

The friends of Captain DeLong have requested that his remains be buried in the naval cemetery at Annapolis, and their request will be granted.

A small and by no means enthusiastic Mahone meeting was held at Manassas yesterday, Peter Carter, a negro making the speech. It is said that there are no Mahoneites in Prince William county, as the republicans there are for Dawson and Woltz. That the lot of Department clerks is an unfortunate one is generally known, but it was never rendered more apparent to some Virginians here to-day than when one of these clerk, hailing from their tation in yielding acquiescence in the result. State, who had lost his place some months ago and has been trying to get another one ever since, told them that he and his family were reduced to their last cent, that the man from whom they rented a room had notified them that they must vacate it by night for non-payment of rent, and that they didn't have enough to pay for moving the little furniture they had left.

All the employees, white and colored, in the Treasury Department and in the bureau of engraving and printing, who hail from Alexandria county, have, it is understood, been granted furlows, and are now engaged in electioneering in that county for General Mahone. There is a large negro majority in that county, which until recently was opposed to Mahone, but how it will be after the General has brought his ways and means to ture was placed in the gallery of Agneaut of Lonbear upon it will only be told by the result of

The Duke of Teck has been decorated with the Order of Osmanick. Baker Pacha has presented to the Khedive a scheme for reorganizing the Egyptian army.

"Policy"-Dr. Talmage preached on Sunday in the Brooklyn Tabernacle on "Gambling," and the minute way in which the famous preacher described the whole business, no doubt led many to exclaim, Why, he must have "been there" himself. After pieturing the first-class gambling establishments, he said! You go along a little further and find the policy establishment. In that place you will bet on numbers. Betting on two numbers is called a "saddle." betting on three numbers is called a "gig; betting on four numbers is called a "horse; and there are thousands of our young men leaping into that saddle and mounting that gig and behind that horse riding to perdi-tion. The usual sign on the door is the word "Exchange;" a most appropriate title. for there in that room a man exchanges health and peace and heaven for loss of health, loss of home, loss of family, loss of immortal soul. Exchange sure enough and

How to GET RID OF RATS AND MICE. - Perhaps I say perhaps, but I say it with little misgiving, because the means I used were not used for the purpose of cleaning them out; but after having used it I never again saw a trace of another rat. I was a good deal troubled with them in my cellar and basement. A trap they did not care for. Nothing was safe. The scaled my swing closet and got into the food; my apples were a sight not to behold. In the spring, a year ago, I cleared up my cellar, and for the purpose of purifying a sprinkled in it, and quite plentifully, from a coarse dredging box carbolate of lime; and with no plan of driving out the rats. I put it about their holes. Whether this drove them out or rot I cannot say, but it is certain I have never again been troubled with them, though last winter my vegetables were entirely unprotected. Will not some one else try it and report the result? If it be a permanent cure, and a healthy cure, and a cheap cure, what more can we want !

and Dealers generally. By Universal Accord AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS are the best of all purgatives for family use. They are the products of long, laborious and successful chemical investigation, and their extensive use, by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, proves them the best and most effectual purgative Pill that medical science can devise. Being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use, and being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take. In intrinsic value and curative powers no other Pills can be compared with them; and every person knowing their virtues will employ them when needed. They keep the system in perfect order, and maintain in healthy action the whole machinery of life. Mild, searching and effectual.

they are especially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure, if timely taken. They are the pest and safest physic to employ for children and weakened constitutions, where a mild but effectual cathartic is required. For sale by all druggists.
